

Good Morning Students and Families,

First a big Congratulations for all of you Completing your Capstone Projects. I really enjoyed hearing feedback from parents and watching your videos, fantastic work! I hope you are all doing well! I apologize for my mistake last week: I published the choice assignment, but not the module, so not all students were able to access it. So, I have extended the choice assignment to the 15th. If you have already submitted your choice assignment, you do not need to submit another assignment this week for that credit. If you were unable to submit a choice assignment last week just do so by this Friday.

Here is a video explanation: <https://youtu.be/Rh56VGL02x4>

Have a lovely week,

Ms. Schroeder