Dear Families,

Attached is the Fourth Grade At Home Learning Plan that begins tomorrow. It is also posted to our school webpage.

- We now have teaching videos posted in Canvas - these videos are meant to serve as a review of several math concepts that students have been working on. If your child needs a review or refresher, please visit our Canvas page, and check out these short videos!
- Let us know if your child is running out of books to read, and we can work with him/her on some digital book checkout options.
- Read-to-self and multiplication fact practice are always encouraged as “bonus” activities!
- We know that there are students using Microsoft Teams for personal use. We have told them that in order to use Teams they must have permission from a grown-up in their home. We have also reminded the students that the iPads belong to the school district and the same guidelines we use at school apply when using them at home.

As always, let us know if you have any questions!
