News From Ms. Tori (School Nurse) - Hi, I hope you are all doing well and remembering that social distancing is still important. Research indicates that society is starting to experience "social distancing fatigue." Social movement has increased over the last 7-10 days. Please remember social distancing and handwashing are the best tools we have right now to slow the spread of sars cov 2 or COVID-19. There is no cure for COVID-19, only supportive care for symptoms. For more information, the entire update is posted <https://www.ecasd.us/District/At-Home-Learning/School-Nurse>. Take care of yourself and your family.
